

Town of Lincoln Needs Votes for Reader's Digest Contest

Reader's Digest magazine has launched a campaign where you can cheer for Lincoln's chance to win a share of $5 million in funds and promotional support. Reader's Digest goal is to re-energize 100 towns and cities of all sizes across the U.S, and with just a minute of your time, Lincoln could be one of them. All you have to do is visit readersdigest.com today and cheer for Lincoln. You may cheer up to 10 votes per day.

Town of Lincoln Director of Personnel, Joanne McManus, entered Lincoln into the contest to acquire new programming for "The Center". The nomination stated:

"The new Senior Center celebrates our residents who have contributed their lifetime to this Town. On November 20, 2010, we had a grand opening of our new, state-of-the-art Senior Center, lovingly known as "The Center". This building is positioned to take full advantage of the environment. All of the activity rooms are filled with natural sunlight all day long and the large reception area includes a welcoming fireplace. Seniors need games, exercise and interesting hobbies to help keep memory sharp and their bodies strong. Every individual has their own tastes, capabilities and preferences. The Town of Lincoln would like to offer more programming to this valued group of residents.

The more we vote together, the better our chances of winning together! Please visit readersdigest.com today and every day until February 7, 2011.
